DESCRIPTION

Il premio - gestito da EFC, Jubileumsfond Riksbankens e ENCACT - è rivolto a giovani ricercatori nel settore delle politiche culturali.

I temi principali da sviluppare sono:

dialogo interculturale e dimensione transnazionale delle politiche culturali, politiche culturali europee e globalizzazione,
dimensione sociale delle politiche culturali,
valori ed etica delle politiche culturali.

Beneficiari

Il premio è rivolto ai ricercatori fino a 35 anni.

The Cultural Policy Research Award was initiated in 2003 by the European Cultural Foundation (ECF) and the Riksbankens Jubileumsfond, and since 2008, is developed in partnership with and managed by ENCACT.

The CPRA annual competition encourages the next generation of cultural policy researchers to undertake comparative and cross-cultural applied research that can inform policymaking and benefit practitioners active in the field.

The Award is devoted to innovative research projects which contribute to new knowledge in the field. It brings visibility and recognition to young researchers and affiliates them with a community.

Il premio ammonta a 10.000 euro.

Le domande devono essere presentate entro il 31 maggio 2013.

Nel mese di luglio saranno resi noti i nomi dei sei finalisti.

Per maggiori informazioni consultare i Links.

Six finalists, selected amongst all applicants, will be invited to the 7th Young Cultural Policy Researchers Forum, alongside the 21st ENCACT Annual Conference in November in Belgium, where they will present their research proposals to the CPRA Jury, Forum participants and ENCACT members and major stakeholders.
